

Bus Schedule Problem Statement

Author: William Cervenka

Problem Statement:

My life would be easier if my bus schedule was more convenient. The bus schedule of my apartment complex is rather inconvenient for my class schedule. I often must wait full hours to arrive home after certain classes.

Furthermore, there are no alternate busses I can take to get home faster.

Who is facing this problem:

All who live at my apartment complex face this issue. Untold hundreds are eligible for the bus schedule to be faulty in relation to their class schedule.

What is the problem:

The problem is that the bus for our apartment arrives too late and leaves even later. The bus stays at one building for an unnecessary amount of time and instead of arriving on campus prior to each hour, it arrives at the apartments exactly on the hour, making us leave the apartment for our class a full hour early. Also, the bus stays on campus for the full hour, making us leave classes between an hour or two hours later than necessary. Finally, the bus stops at six o'clock, making late classes impossible to attend.

Where does the problem present itself:

This problem arises daily. If one needs to get to class, they must use the bus. And using the bus remains inconvenient.

Why does it matter:

This inconvenient bus schedule adds an extra layer of daily inconvenience that frustrates and wastes the time of many students.
